THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLAR FIRE AT BOYES SPRINGS.

Stores, Express and Postoffice and Numerous Cottages Go Up in Flames—Fourteen Buildings Burned.

A disastrous fire broke out at Boyes Springs at 5:45 o'clock last Tuesday evening, and lacking adequate fire-protection methods the fire had full sway. Volunteer fire fighters flocked to the scene of the conflagration from all directions and through the efforts of these the fire was confined to the row of buildings across the road from Boyes Club House.

For a time the club house and garage were in imminent danger, but the heroic efforts of the volunteer fire fighters saved these buildings and prevented the spread of the flames to buildings in the rear of them.

The fire broke out in Nathan's ice cream parlors, presumably from an oil stove and spread with great rapidity to the Graham building occupied by E. J. Koenig as a store, postoffice and express office. The flames then spread and soon claimed for their own a large number of summer cottages and numerous other buildings. Altogether fourteen frame structures were destroyed. The heaviest losers were Mr. Mengies, the owner of the cottages destroyed, and A. D. Graham.

The loss is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $35,000. As to the insurance on the property we are not advised.

The burned aera will be rebuilt immediately.

Sonoma Baseball Game Tomorrow

There will be a practice game of baseball on the Sonoma diamond tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock. The contesting teams will be the newly organized Sonoma Valley Stars and Jim Modini's Eagles of the Federal League. Pete Boccoli will pitch for the Feds with "Hung" Anselmi on the receiving end. Fred Helberg will probably pitch for the Regulars and Geo. Block will catch. No one has offered to umpire as yet.

A meeting of the local ball fans was held at the City Hall last Monday night. Arrangements were made for conditioning the grounds, purchasing bats, etc. The officers of this year's team are as follows: Manager, Geo. McNab; Treasurer, Roy Pauli; Captain, Ralph Evans.

The members of the new club desire te thank the business men who contributed so generously toward defraying the preliminary expenses of the organization.

At a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors of this county held last Wednesday, its members voted to purchase $220,000 of State Highway bonds.

SONOMA CITY AND ITS WATER SUIT.

It is Endeavoring to Restrain the Sonoma Valley Water, Light and Power Co., from Using its Artesian Water Supply.

The civil suit instituted several months ago by the City of Sonoma, Mary Weyl and Enrico Eraldi against the Sonoma Valley Water, Light and Power Company (the L. L. Lewis tystem) is on trial this week in Judge Seawell's department of the Superior Court.

The complaint of the plaintiffs demands that the defendant company be enjoined from in any way interfering with or diverting or transporting any of the water of said underground stream, or from drawing off the same from the said wells or premises of the plaintiffs or any of them, or in any manner preventing the said water flowing through and from the said wells of plaintiffs and onto the same premises of plaintiffs as the same was heretofore accustomed to flow prior to said June 1, 1913; also, for costs of this action and such other judgment and further relief as may be equitable and just."

Plaintiffs also allege that in 1913 the defendant company sunk wells and diverted from the underground stream that supplied plaintiffs' wells by means of powerful pumps, thereby diminishing the supply of water from what it had been prior to the alleged diversion. Hence the suit.

A number af witnesses took the stand Tuesday and testified as to the topography and artesian water sources of the various wells involved, the uses to which the water had been put and the results following the diminishing of the supply, etc. Among these witnesses were Otto von Geldern, the eminent engineer of San Francisco, City Trustee J. D. Wagnon of this place and F. L. Bose, all of whom testified for plaintiff.

The trial was resumed Wednesday and may last several days.

The New Play House.

O. T. Williams, a theatrical man of San Francisco, who will have the management of the new playhouse to be erected in this city the coming month by John F. Picetti, was here Tuesday and inspected several sites for the new theatre. Mr. Williams has been in the theatrical business for ten years and certainly can be depended upon to conduct the new playhouse in an up to-date manner and to the satisfaction of Sonoma's amusement-loving people.

Plans for the new theatre have already been prepared and work on the building will be commenced as soon as one of the several sites submitted is chosen.

Messrs. Picetti and Williams are receiving much encouragement in their new enterprize, which will fill a long-needed want in this city.

Writes About Peruvian Cities He Has Visited in His Travels Abroad. Takes a Ride Over Harry Meiggs' Railroad.

Mollendo, Peru, Feb. 9th.

On the 5th of February, the day after the revolution, I visited the National Museum, where a German Ph. Dr., an enthusiastic archaeologist, is in charge, and took particular pains to show me remnants of the old Inca civilization, the same dating back 1,000 years and more. Work in silver and gold, pottery and tapestry in abundance is exhibited, but most of interest to me were the copper chisels, tempered, an art lost with the dying out of the Inca race. They are hard tempered, so that stone can be cut with them, but I believe it to be an alloy of copper and either tin or nickel.

Going back to the city, the big penitentiary and opposite the wide avenuida, the Escuelo (university) of Higea. Passing I went to the Monastery of the Franciscan Monks on the Placa de San Francisco. The wonderful garden of 500 years of age and the old plants and trees in the garden inside the walls and the interior of their chapel are worth visiting. However, the old Monk who took me through the place complained of lack of interested visitors. This no doubt had a double meaning of which the scarcity of tips from Americans is the main one.

While this section of the world is almost rainless immense crops of corn and vegetables are raised continuously by irrigation. The water of the Rio Rimax furnishes ample water and rushes through Lima in endless cascades.

Large, well-kept vineyards can be seen every where around Lima and between the vines are sweet potatoes. There are several small wineries and one large brewery in Lima, another one being in course of construction and the brewery in Callao is undergoing a change of reconstruction and enlarging. Beer is not subject to any special revenue and the cantinas or saloons require no license. In fact beer and wine are considered a commodity like any other merchandise.

Our boat was to sail at 6 p. m. and I went back to Callao after I had learned a few more points of interest about the revolution.

Guillermo (William) Billinghurst, the jailed Presidento, is of English parentage, born in Callao He was elected by the laboring class, like Eugene Schmitz, the ex-Mayor of San Francisco, and not much unlike this gentleman, was indicted by the Peruvian Congress of embezzlement. There are in reality four parties—the Constitutionalists, the Liberals, the Military and the Labor. It was claimed by several I interviewed that there would be another revolution following in about three months, right after the election.

Two fellow passengers from the Mexico had made a trip to the Cerrode Pasco (American) mine, 18,000 feet high, and with them came two American mining engineers, who claimed that the Peruvian miners would come down as a solid body to take a hand in the next revolution if they could find out in time; but this revolution of the 4th of February passed too quick and took them all by surprise.

The main force of Peruvian militia was taken to Callao to make an impression upon the dock laborers and there was no sign of any disturbance. The two Peruvian gunboats in the harbor near the steamship Mexico seemed to be unconcerned. About these two cities I may mention that Lima has 145,000 and Callao 35,000 inhabitants. Both will never banish from my memory.

The next port was Tambo de Mora, where several passengers with myself went on shore and viewed the big cotton gin and oil factory, owned and operated by an Italian and a German. We took on board a cargo of 8,000 sacks of cottonseed. A large part of their output is crushed and pressed and the balance of the seed is used as fuel under the boilers of the steamer. The cottonseed oil is filtered and shipped to Europe for mixing with and adulterating olive oil. The drv cakes are packed in sacks and shipped to England as feed for cavalry horses and the residue from the oil is made into soap. This short description may show the size of cotton production and the mill.

After leaving Tambo de Mora we passed many guano islands and one, in particular, very close. The captain amused us passengers by giving a blast with the whistle and the birds flew up in such numbers that they appeared as one big cloud. These birds are faithful servants of W. R. Grace & Co., and two other companies, working without food or pay and permit an income of about two million soles to the Peruvian government, paid by the three guano companies for the removal of the guano and exporting it.

At Pisco, the next port, we unloaded mostly bottles and took on wine, brandy (called pisca) and fruit for Valparaiso. Here the sea was fairly smooth and the trip on shore was very interesting. We visited two wineries and sampled their tinco and blanco wines and hired mules to ride out into the vineyards, where picking had just commenced. The vines are kept in California style, but with watermelons planted between the rows. Larger vineyards and wineries are three miles east at Ica. The vineyards, orchards and fields are irrigated and in consequence the grapes are tasteless but very large and sweet.

Back on shore, before going on board the Mexico, we viewed the numerous sea lions jumping several feet out of the water, and returned to the ship with a good supply of fruit and grapes.

Shortly after being in deep water again we had the gruesome spectacle of slaughtering thousands of fish driven to the surface by sea lions and between those and the birds from overhead—seagulls, dugs, albatros and pelicans—the fish were an easy prey of both enemies.

Mollendo, the next port at where I disembarked to go into the southern interior of Peru to view the ruins of the Inca race, is built on high cliffs. The landing was effected with much difficulty, owing to a very high surf. We missed the daily train for Arequipa by about an hour and had to make up for the day in the Hotel Americano. We took a dip in the ocean and viewed the town which had been completely burned down twice, and were glad to get the train for Arequipa. With me were Dr. Warren and an agent of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., who makes Lima his headquarters.

The trip from Mollendo to Arequipa is about two hundred miles, from sea level to 6,950 feet in five hours without a single tunnel. Built forty-six years ago the road is yet in good condition. We three were the only passengers in the observation car and the Singer agent, by name of Boyes, who had been over this road often, made the trip very interesting.

Talking about Mt. Tamalpais as the crookedest road is an insult to this road, which was built by Harry Meiggs of San Francisco, who completed the job with 240,000 men in eight months.

A most unique sight on this road are the shifting sand dunes of seas and over the brown sand of desert, moving up with every wind. They are all in a shape of crescents from 25 to 150 feet wide to 6 feet to 12 feet high in the center and running out at both points to nothing, with a sharp top the entire length. The human hand with a shovel could not imitate nor any way near form such perfect crescents, leaving none of the gray-blue sea sand behind or mixing with the brown sand and gravel of the desert.

It was 126 degrees fahrenheit in the shade when we left Mollendo. At Victor, having passed the desert (4,000 feet high) and coming into the valley of the Chili river we put on our waists and when arriving in Arequipa at 5 p. m. we could well stand the heat. The mountain air felt and smelt good to us. The Hotel Gran Central is run by an Italian. In fact the hotels in Peru are with rare exception in the hands of Italians and the barber shops are run by Japanese. So are the dry goods stores and haberdasheries in the hands of Turks and Armenians.

Congregational Church

The Sunday morning worship will have as its theme the Fatherhood of God. "Like as a father pitieth his children so the Lord pitieth them that fear him" is what God's word declares. Fear in this passage means that reverence that seeks to adore and obey. Every man has his notion and every man's notion of God must be according to what he knows about him. If we had your knowledge of God we would act as you do. Our knowledge of the true and living God cannot be evolved out of our consciousness. We can only learn the true God by reading and study of the Bible. We then obey the commands of God and there is given to us that experience and spiritual discernment that knows that God is what he says he is. We may as well state the position that gives the notion of God that makes a Christian. Reason is not enough. By this ladder you may mount high toward God but to reach him you must have the wings of Faith. Faith is a continuance of reason and is the thing you use in life more than anything else and without it business dies and hard times overtakes us. For this reason a man ought to go to church and learn of God and this is my motive in inviting you.

Y. P. S. C. E. on next Sunday at 6:30 P. M. and Mr. Fisk will lead us.

The Sunday evening service will be at 7:30 P. M. We do not see that men know themselves any better than they know God. We want to give you what Jesus has taught us and we will venture that the man who knows himself will not do a mean thing or utter a nasty word. A man is never as silly as when he forgets himself. It is so much pleasanter to be good than it is to be bad that I wish somebody would give his argument for being Godless.

THE BEAR FLAG MONUMENT FIESTA.

It Has Been Decided by the Sonoma Native Sons to Make the Celebration a Two-Day Affair — The Committees.

The Native Sons of Sonoma Parlor held an enthusiastic meeting, followed by a banquet, last Monday evening, the occasion being the discussion of the forthcoming celebration of Bear Flag Day on Sonoma's historic plaza on June 14th, the sixty-eighth anniversary of the raising of the Bear Flag in this city.

The Bear Flag monument, a gift from the State of California, will be unveiled on June 14th, with appropriate ceremonies, and it is the intention of every Native Sons Parlor in the State to make the event long to be remembered.

At Monday's meeting the local parlor received many communications from the various parlors of both Native Sons and Daughters throughout the State as to making special arrangements with the railroads for special trains to accomodate the thousands who will participate in the celebration.

A program was arranged for the two-days celebration and the following committees were appointed to take charge of the affair:

Publication Committee—John F. Picetti, Theo. Kiser and Ernest Campbell.

Dedication of Mission—F. T. Duhring, M. E. Cummings and L. H. Green.

Reception Committee—H. W. Gottenberg, H. F. Bates and Geo. McGill.

Parade Committee—Joseph Kiser, F. J. Hiser and James Maffei.

Committee on Races—Jos. F. Ryan, J. H. Murray and Sam B. Lewis.

Music and Entertainment Committee—Roy Pauli, Claude Johnson and A. Jansen.

Decoration Committee—Paul Robin.

Committee on Transportation and Accomodations—H. Perkins, Ralph Hotz and A. W. Adler.

Committee on Beautifying Plaza—Wm. Von Hacht, Philip Bill, Chas. Groskopf, F. C. Helberg and L. Thomas.

Finance Committee—M. E. Cummings, Harry B. Shaw, J. Murray, Wm. Von Hacht and Jesse Prestwood.

It is the intention of the Native Sons to make the celebration the greatest ever held in the old town, and one long to be remembered.

High School Debate

On March 21st the students of the high school will uphold the negative of the question: "Resolved that in periods of depression municipalities should give work to the unemployed" Cloverdale upholds the affirmative. No question should come more opportunely. The rules of the debating league provide that two weeks before the debate is held the question and side shall be assigned by the English department of the University of California, to each of the contesting schools. Sonoma seems to have drawn the unpopular side.

The pupils earnestly desire the support of the community in this activity. This debate is the semi-final and if Sonoma wins we are in line for the championship.

A charge of 20c admission is necessary to meet the expenses which the home team must pay. Don't forget the date, March 21st, 8:30 p. m. at the Assembly hall of the high school.

Ordinance No. 131.

On and after March 14, 1914, it shall be unlawful for any one in Sonoma City to own, keep or harbor any dog without procuring a license dog tag attached to such dog for the current year. So come and procure your dog license and save further trouble to yourselves.

School Bond Election To-day

To-day, Saturday, the electors of Sonoma School District will have the opportunity of showing their interest in the education of their children in voting upon the proposition of bonding the district for the purpose of building a modern, sanitary, convenient and healthful building to replace the antiquated structure in which our children for these many years past have sweltered through the summer heat in crowded and poorly ventilated rooms, and have, through the dark days of winter, strained their eyes over their books in the dim light afforded by poorly arranged and insufficient windows.

It is the duty of every voter to support the bonds in order that a deplorable, and in fact a criminal condition, may be remedied. More is to be considered than the commercial welfare of our community, though that in itself is of great importance. Our children are menaced by the present unsightly and unsanitary building. We owe it to the boys and girls of our community to provide for them every means of securing the best education obtainable, that they may go out into the world properly equipped to assume the responsiblities incumbent upon every good citizen.

As to the financial side of the proposition the bonding of the district, with its assessment of almost a million, for the sum of $30,000 to run thirty years will not mean an excessive or unusual additional tax upon the property holders. According to conservative estimates the bonds will incur an additional tax of about 27 cents on the hundred assessment, making in all a tax rate for school purposes much lower than in neighboring towns and cities. This rate will materially decrease year by year, as the bonds are paid. The Board of Trustees consider the bonding proposition the most reasonable plan, as a special tax sufficient to raise the needed amount in one year would be a great hardship upon many of our property holders, and such action is to be avoided if possible.

We earnestly ask every voter in this district to go to the polls today and take a stand for advancement and enlightenment by voting "yes" on the bonds. Let us make it unanimous this time. That would indeed be a fine advertisement for our community. As before stated in these columns the old register of 1913 holds good in all elections before April 1, so those who were not re-registered 30 days previous to the election to-day may vote on their old registration. The ballot is very simple and will be provided at the polls. It reads:

BONDS YES

with a place for the marking of a cross after each proposition. Either lead pencil or pen may be used in marking the ballots. The voter will then deposit his ballot giving his name which will be recorded on the poll list by the proper offiicial.

VINEBURG NEWS ITEMS

"Easy Jim" Tells in an Interesting Way all About the Week's Happenings in and Around His Section of the Valley.

Prof. Ricci spent several days in the city this week.

A number of our Native Sons attended the banquet of Sonoma Parlor last Monday evening.

Sunday was quite lively in this burg, many people arriving and departing on the railroad trains.

Joseph Miller, the veteran green and dried fruit buyer of Santa Rosa, transacted business here last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bundschu spent the week-end with friends in the bay cities, returning to Rhinefarm Monday.

Mrs. Thos. Lentz and children of San Francisco are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Enrico Forni at the Pleasant Villa.

Some one has remarked that our roadmaster is "wet," but from the dust on the roads around here he must be very "dry."

Fred Batto was called to San Francisco, Petaluma and Santa Rosa this week on business connected with his firm.

Louis Rouquie is repainting the building occupied by our local merchant and postmaster, Adolph Rubke. Some artist, our Louie.

J. Frank Wallace of Santa Rosa, district superintendent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, transacted business in this vicinity Tuesday.

Business is booming around the station here, but that doesn't appear to worry station agent Grove Rubke and he is just as pleasant as he ever was.

Henry Forni was called to San Francisco Monday on account of the sudden death of his brother-in-law, P. Grannolli. The funeral took place in the city Wednesday.

Arthur Batto motored to Santa Rosa last Sunday and had as guests Chas. Groscopf, Mrs. Arthur Batto, Misses Louisa, Emily, Evelyn and Masters Frederick and Frances Batto.

Mesdames George Wallman and E. M. Cutter left on Thursday of last week for the southern part of the State where they will visit friends and relatives. They will take in Los Angeles, San Diego and other points of interest.

Henry Pape, the popular mixologist of Pleasant Villa, is planning a trip to Napa on fraternal business in the near future. Look out, Henry, that the auto tires are sound and that the "tight man" at the wheel uses gasoline instead of water and hot air.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rahag of Bartlet Cottage on the Hyde tract, on Sunday last, christened their fair little daughter, who will now be known as Miss Marie Rose. John Gross of Rhinefarm and Miss Emma Engelhart were sponsers. About thirty guests enjoyed the hospitality of the happy parents and had a grand time.

John Murray, our popular Mayor, states that he will not run or allow his name to be used to succeed himself at the next election on July 18, 1915, as by that time it will be an appointive office and some Progressive Republican will get it. That is the reason Jake Myers is letting his whiskers grow. You can't fool Jake. He is a Democrat.

Some one, evidently affected by the recent eclipse of the moon, imagined that last Sunday morning was Hallow'een, and decorated the front of Batto's grain warehouse with bundles of laths and carrots. Some combination, sure. But then, some good men have more time than sense and must enjoy themselves.

Peaceful Vineburg was agreeably surprised Saturday morning when a pretty bright-eyed eleven-pound Native Daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rubke. Mother and child are doing nicely. When it comes to Native Daughters watch Vineburg grow.
